STRONG TRAFFIC ORDINANCE IS PASSED BY CITY

CITY DADS GIVE POLICE MORE POWER IN HANDLING THE MOTOR VEHICLES.

GALENA AVE BRIDGE FLOOR

Sterling, Dixon & Eastern Taken To Task For Condition of the Plank Flooring.

A new traffic ordinance, making needed changes in the old measure, giving the police more power in handling the operation of motor vehicles in the streets and alleys of Dixon, and providing additional measures for the conservation of public safety, was passed by the city council at its meeting this morning. In many respects the new ordinance, which becomes effective at once, is the same as the old ordinance, and many sections coincide with the state laws; however, new provisions, which will be rigidly enforced, are:

Automobiles will not be allowed to park over one foot from any curb, and must not be left standing within 25 feet of any street corner, or within 15 feet of a fire hydrant.

No vehicles will be allowed to stop on First street between Galena and Peoria avenues, longer than is necessary to load or unload passengers, between the hours of 7 and 11 p. m. on Saturdays or Sundays.

All motor vehicles and street cars must use suitable dimmers on their headlights while operating anywhere within the city limits from sunset to one hour before sunrise.

Vehicles traveling in Galena avenue shall always have right of way over vehicles entering or crossing Galena avenue from any intersecting thoroughfare.

Motors must not be left running while car is standing, unless there is an attendant in the car.

All vehicles must go to street intersections to turn around; turning in the middle of a block will be vigorously prosecuted.

Bridge Floor Planking.

The city commissioners also discussed in no uncertain terms the condition of the planking on the Galena avenue bridge and the failure of the S. D. & E. Ry. to keep it in repair, as provided for in its franchise.

In the discussion over this feature it was also charged that the electric railway was tying up completion of the brick pavement on the Lincoln Highway, west of the city limits, and it was said that unless the company elevates its tracks near the milk factory so the contractors can proceed with their work, all work on that street will be stopped until fall. The city attorney will take the matter up with the traction company in an effort to reach a satisfactory settlement of the conditions.

State Clashes With Uncle Sam Over Illinois Railroad Rates

Springfield, June 11 — Attorney General Brundage and the state of Illinois, with the approval of Gov. Lowden, are preparing to defy United States Judge D. P. Dyer of St. Louis.

Mr. Brundage proposes to enforce the Illinois 2 cent passenger rate law, regardless of the mandate issued last week by Judge Dyer, who coupled it with the threat that he would place Attorney General Brundage or "anybody else from Illinois that does not heed this court" in jail for contempt of his authority.

Lowden Appeals to Senators
Before proceeding to actual contempt the case of the state of Illinois has been taken up with President Wilson and Attorney General Gregory at Washington. Gov. Lowden sent a letter to Senators Sherman and Lewis stating the facts and urging them to use every means at command to see the president and inform him of the situation that is threatened through the course pursued by ex-Gov. Folk

CHIEF OF POLICE NOW

SCHOOL CHILDREN ALL INVITED TO JOIN BIG PARADE

Arrangements for the public patriotic demonstration on Flag Day, which is being sponsored by Dixon lodge No. 779, B. P. O. Elks, and in which every school child in Dixon is asked to participate, are progressing favorably and it is now hoped all the children will take part. It is stated that they are to consider themselves invited, as the committee will have no other way of reaching them, except through the press, and to accept this notice as an invitation for them to meet at the south side high school building at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon, ready to march in the street parade and attend the short meeting at the Elks' club, where the Flag Day ritual will be given.

The parade will start at 2:30 p. m., headed by the Chamber of Commerce band, the probable line of march being: west in Fifth street to Peoria avenue, north on Peoria avenue to First street, east on First street to Galena avenue, south on Galena to Second street and thence east to the Elks' club.

LODGES RALLY TO COUNTRY'S CALL; THEY BUY BONDS

SEVERAL ORGANIZATIONS HAVE TAKEN ACTION—OTHERS WILL FOLLOW.

MEET AT ST. JAMES TONIGHT

Big Attendance Is Expected—Fine Gathering At Gap Grove Monday.

The lodges of the city are beginning to take a very commendable hold of the Liberty Loan proposition and all which have had meetings since the local campaign started have taken bonds. The Knights of Columbus at a recent meeting subscribed to a $500 bond and other organizations since reported are:

B. P. O. Elks $500
I. O. O. F. 100
M. W. A. 100

All these sums have been paid out of the lodge treasuries and the bonds remain in the lodge title. Other organizations are expected to take similar action at meetings to be held between now and Friday, when the subscription will close.

Many At Meeting.

The meeting held at the Palmyra town hall last evening, at which Attorneys Harry Edwards and Harry Warner and John H. Byers urged general support of the government's campaign for support, was well attended and the stirring addresses given by these men are expected to awaken

DIXON VOLLEY BALL TEAM SUCCESSFUL

DEFEATED FREEPORT Y THERE MONDAY NIGHT, EVENING THE SCORE.

WIVES ACCOMPANIED MEN

Monday evening the Dixon Y. M. C. A. volley ball team went by auto to Freeport to avenge the previous defeats suffered at the hands of the Freeport Y team, and were successful after a hard fought contest. Three games were necessary to win the match. The scores:

Dixon	Freeport

The Dixon team: Sutterlin, Howard, Self, Hagen, Major and Derkin. The wives of most of the team members went along and it was their enthusiastic rooting that in a large measure helped win the victory. After the game all the Dixonites demolished a feed at the Y cafeteria. The return was somewhat delayed by the rain, but no casualties were reported.

VAN BIBBER QUILTS; NOW POLICE CHIEF

NOTED EDITOR TO SPEAK IN DIXON SUNDAY, JULY 2e

John Temple Graves of New York City, editor-in-chief of all the Hearst newspapers, will deliver an address at the Rock River Assembly the first Sunday, July 29th. Mr. Graves takes the place of Judge Coulter of New York, who was called to special work by the war department and was forced to cancel his engagement. The Assembly program committee has been trying for years to secure Mr. Graves, as he is one of the greatest orators of the south, a Georgian, and is one of the highest paid speakers on the chautauqua platform. Few men are as well posted as Mr. Graves on matters of world interest and his lecture will be upon some national or world issue. Assembly patrons are now assured of three big Sundays, with John Temple Graves, ex-President Wm. H. Taft and Mme. Julia Claussen, the great vocalist, assigned to one each.

ASKS DAMAGE FOR COLLISION

Batavia Man Rushes Into Court Here Monday Afternoon.

F. C. Feldt of Batavia, a tourist, filed suit in Justice Gehant's court on Monday against E. B. Gonnerman of this city for damages alleged to have been done his automobile in a brush between it and the Gonnerman delivery wagon at Galena avenue and Lincoln way earlier in the day. He alleges Mr. Gonnerman was on the wrong side of the road, while Mr. Gonnerman's defense is that Feldt was in the middle of the street and did not use proper care in approaching the corner.

POPULAR CLERGYMAN SUCCEEDS AS COMMISSIONER OF HEALTH & SAFETY

A. B. WHITCOMBE NAMED

Municipal affairs were given a surprising shake-up at this morning's meeting of the city council when John D. Van Bibber, who was elected a member of the first city commission and who has served the succeeding six years most efficiently and fairly, resigned, was appointed chief of police at a salary of $1200 per year and Rev. A. B. Whitcombe was appointed by the commissioners to fill Mr. Van Bibber's unexpired term.

The action of the council in accepting Mr. Van Bibber's resignation and appointing him to the office of chief of police, was to meet the increasing demand for such an official here, and also as a merited promotion to the commissioner who, as head of the department of Public Health & Safety has been practically performing the duties of chief to the neglect of his own private business, for the commissioner's paltry salary of $33 per month.

Hereafter he will devote his entire time to the office of chief, announcing this morning that as soon as possible he will dispose of his photographic business. Since becoming the head of the department he has devoted the greater part of his time to the maintenance of the police and fire bodies of the city and has done remarkable service at all hours of the day and night. He will make an effort to make an efficient official.

HEAD OF ASSOCIATED PRESS DIVISION DEAD

ARTHUR W. COPP, A. P. MAN ON ST. LOUIS, DIED THIS MORNING.

(Associated Press)
Washington, June 12—Arthur W. Copp, superintendent of the Southern division of the Associated Press, died today of a complication of diseases, aged 49. He entered the service as a telegrapher nearly 25 years ago and had served in many capacities. He was correspondent in Cuba during the Spanish-American war, superintendent of the Western division for a time, and represented the Associated Press on the liner St. Louis, which was the first armed American ship to enter the submarine danger zone. When he volunteered for that service his serious illness at the time was unknown to others.

RESUME ARTILLERY FLIGHT

(Associated Press)
New York, June 12—Violent artillery engagements have been resumed in the region of the California Plateau, on the Aisne front and in Champagne.

Railroads of Country Facing Bad Shortage of Power Equipment

(Associated Press)
Omaha, June 12—Whether railroads of the United States must be operated as a unit under the plan worked out by the National Council of Defense is a question railroad officials at Omaha, where the Union Pacific, the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy and the Chicago and North-western have headquarters, are debating.

According to some transportation men the only way engines or the car equipment can be taken off the Omaha lines without crippling the service, will be under the unit plan. Omaha roads figure that with the enormous movement of soldiers and equipment in sight, together with a regular business that is already 25 per cent greater than at this time in any past year, there will be a very serious shortage of equipment. There is a probability, they say, of such a shortage that there will be no equipment to send to France, if requisitions be made.

Operating officials of local roads assert that they are short of power and that to send engines abroad will cripple the service materially. Old engines that were nearly ready for the scrap pile have been put together in the shops, repaired and sent out onto branch lines where they are doing fairly good service, railway men say. Machines bought in recent years are on the main lines and in all instances, it is said, are being worked to capacity.

GIRLS! MAKE A BEAUTY LOTION WITH LEMONS

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quart of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness, and tan and is the ideal skin softener, smoothener and beautifier.
Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It should naturally help to whiten, soften, freshen and bring out the roses and beauty of the skin. It is truly marvelous to smoothen rough, red hands.

N. D. H. S. Alumnae Meet

Seventy members and guests of the North Dixon Alumni Association enjoyed the annual reunion and banquet Monday evening in Kindergarten hall and welcomed the sixteen members of the Class of '17 into the association. The hall was decorated in green and white, with bridal wreath as the flowers, making a charming setting for the national colors which were much in evidence.

The speaker of the evening was Robert

Frazer of Polo, who recently returned from France where he volunteered for service in the American Ambulance Corps. Dr. Lundsen of the Methodist church gave the inroduction preceding the banquet, and after the serving of the banquet, a supper of hot rolls, salad, coffee, ice cream and cake—by the ladies of Mrs. Watts' section of the Methodist

Ladies Aid, the program of the evening was given.

Everett Dutcher, the association president, welcomed the Class of '17 into the membership of the association and Miss Vada Hill, president of the incoming class, responded cleverly. Miss Gertrude Nesbit gave a charming violin number and was followed by Mrs. Clea Bunnell, secretary, in the roll call and reading of the minutes. Communications from absent members were read by Miss Florence Stackpole, corresponding secretary. The address of the evening by Mr. Frazer was then given and listened to with great interest.

Mr. Frazer told of the conditions in France as he saw them, relating vividly many incidents and happenings which came under his cognizance. Mrs. Phelps of Sterling, music instructor in the North Dixon schools, sang a beautiful selection, closing the program.

Officers for the coming year were chosen, and it was decided that elections hereafter should be simplified by using a rotation system by which each officer of the preceding year is advanced a step, the former president to be succeeded by the vice president, and so on, the only new officer to be chosen to be the treasurer. Accordingly Vice President

James Sterling became president,

Mrs. Clea Bunnell vice president,

Miss Florence Stackpole recording secretary, Ralph Salzman, corresponding secretary, and Miss Dorothy Hall was newly elected treasurer. A rising vote of thanks for the excellent supper provided by the Ladies' Aid closed the evening.

Captain Soper Weds

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth

Adelaide Crawford, daughter of Mr.

and Mrs. Wilson Crawford of 703 Ca-lena Ave., to Captain Elijah Soper of Company G, 6th Regiment, I. N. G., now stationed at Rock Island, took place Monday noon in one of the parlors of the Lafayette Inn, Clinton, Iowa. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Renvoll, pastor of a Clinton Presbyterian church, in the presence of the bride's parents,

Mr. and Mrs. Crawford; the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. H. O. Soper, 305 Chamberlain street, this city.

FORTY YEARS' SUCCESS

For a business to be successful for forty years means a great deal.

Among other things, it means remarkable excellence in the products it sells. No inferior article can be sold on a large scale for so many years; and it must not only be good at the outset, but so good that the progress of forty years shall not develop any better article to supersede it.

So women can, with confidence

Ross Crawford, the bride's brother; and Mrs. C. E. Preston, wife of the

First Lieutenant of Captain Soper's company, whose wedding to Lieut.

Preston took place but a few weeks ago at Rock Island, with Miss Crawford and Captain Soper as the attendants. Lieut. Preston was unable to be present at his friend's wedding because of pressure of duties.

Captain Soper, in his uniform, and his bride in white chiffon cloth and lace, made a very attractive bridal couple. The ring service was used.

After the ceremony the wedding party of seven had luncheon at the Inn, and later Captain and Mrs. Soper left for Rock Island. They have selected furnished apartments at Moline which will be their home while Captain Soper is stationed at Rock Island. Mrs. Soper's suit was of gray silver-bloom cloth and with this she wore a white Panama hat.

Mrs. Soper is a registered nurse,

a graduate of Hahnemann hospital,

Chicago—a thoroughly charming young woman as well as thoroughly capable in her profession. Her people are among the most prominent of Dixon families. Captain Soper is an able soldier and the possessor of sturdy, manly qualities which make him a favorite with his men and the possessor of many friends. Both have the best wishes of all who know them for a happy future.

Krug-Rosecrans Wedding

At the home of a sister, Mrs. Le-

Roy Buhler, of Palmyra, Miss Estella Elizabeth Krug, daughter of Mrs.

Mary Krug of Ashton, became the bride on Monday of Glenn Rosecrans, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W.

Rosecrans of Ashton. Rev. F. A.

Graham, pastor of the Methodist church of Ashton, solemnized the wedding at high noon in the presence of a group of relatives of both the bride and bridegroom. The ring service was used. There were no attendants.

The bridal gown was a handsome crepe de Meteor, heavily stitched, and with Georgette crepe collar and sleeves. The ceremony took place before a handsome arrangement of ferns and white wedding bells.

In the dining room where a three-course wedding luncheon was served, American Beauties and similar formed the centerpiece while at each place as favors were button-nières of roses and sweet peas. The whole color scheme was an attractive grouping of rose and white.

Miss Mariam Rosecrans, sister of the bridegroom, and two sisters of the bride, Mrs. Buhler and Miss Alma

Krug, served the luncheon.

The guests were Mr. and Mrs. A.

W. Rosecrans and daughter, Miss

Miriam and Mrs. Mary Krug and Miss Alma Krug of Ashton; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Padd of DeKalb, the latter a sister of the bride; Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Root of Ashton; and

Rev. and Mrs. F. A. Graham and son Fred of Ashton.

YOUNGER CHILDREN AND RURAL PATRONS TO BE GIVEN PRIVILEGES.

The annual report of J. C. Ayres and E. C. Parsons, directors of the Dixon Public Library, submitted to the council this morning, at its meeting, shows the institution to be in a very flourishing condition. On June 1 there were 16,841 books on hand, 712 of which were bought during the year and 58 donated. 32,223 books were loaned during the year. Books of fiction head the list, 15,429 of that class being loaned, while juvenile fiction was second with 9962.

The board has determined upon a new plan for children, and henceforth cards will be issued to children from 7 to 10 years of age if the application is signed by their parents, while children over 10 years do not need their parents' signature to secure cards. Cards will also be issued to rural patrons for a nominal fee, details of which can be obtained at the library.

STATE CLASHES WITH UNCLE SAM

performing my sworn duty. If anybody goes to jail by the order of a federal judge I suppose it will have to be myself."

As explained by Attorney General Brundage the present situation is brought about by this chain of circumstances:

Certain merchants of St. Louis complained to the interstate commerce commission that they were discriminated against by the railroads entering St. Louis from Illinois. The commission granted an order, general in its terms, that authorized a 2.4 cent rate. All of the railroads of Illinois took advantage of this order and boosted their rates to 2.4 cents, most of them effective last week.

"Rates between Chicago and Waukegan, for instance, were raised on the pretext that they were affected by the St. Louis claim.

"The constitutionality of the Illinois 2 cent law is pending in the U. S. supreme court and is to come to a decision in October. Attorney General Brundage secured an injunction before Judge Foell in the superior court at Chicago restraining the railroads from raising the rates, because the 2 cent state law was in full force and effect.

"This injunction was served on 25 railroads having offices in Chicago, under the terms of the public utilities act. The Wabash alone was not reachable, having no office in Chicago.

Folk Starts Proceedings.
Meantime Mr. Folk went before Judge Dyer and sought a mandamus directed against the railroads to obey the order of the interstate commerce commission. Attorney General Brundage sought to have the state of Illinois and the public utilities commission impleaded as defendants, but this was refused. When the matter was up last week Judge Dyer, according to the report here, made the remark that the state of Illinois could not defy his court.

Today in Washington the supreme court handed down a decision in a South Dakota case that the attorney general holds sustains the basis of the Illinois case now pending in the high court.

"All we want and all that we are seeking is to be let alone in our efforts to enforce the laws of our state while the appeal to Washington is taking its orderly course," Mr. Brundage said.

Most of the railroads, it is understood, which would prefer the 15 per cent increase in freight rates, now pending before the state public utilities commission, to the increase to 2.4 in passenger rates, are now desirous of co-operating with instead of combatting Mr. Brundage.

HOW OLD ARE YOU?

Never in the history of this country has this question been of such vital interest to our people as today.

Never before has our government been so deeply interested in knowing the exact ages of the young men of the land.

And never before has the public been so ready to grasp the great importance of birth registration.

In ordinary times as the years go by and problems are taken up and settled our civilization grows; and the more rapidly these problems are settled the faster civilization grows.

In ordinary times the demands first by one problem and then another explains the temporary side-tracking in so many states of the problem of birth registration. It is not because people believe it unimportant, but the problem has been crowded aside until a more favorable day.

When the story is told of the American arrested in London as a German spy, unable to obtain a birth certificate because his birth had never been recorded and the doctor had died, but finally saved by the finding of an old letter which told of his birth, people grasp the point and agree that the births should be registered; but as the story relates to someone far away an unknown, the point is soon forgotten and public opinion is never awakened. So, too, the statements that births are needed to prove men of voting age, to establish old age pensions and pensions for children of soldiers, to establish rights of inheritance, determine efficiency of states in protecting children's health, and determine who is entitled to the protection of our flag, these statements are too apt to be treated as old axioms which call for no immediate reform.

The need for complete birth registration is recognized but the inertia of the people still prevails.

Thus in ordinary times the problems of civilization are settled slowly, but not so in time of war or after great catastrophes. Then the emergency or bitter experience brings quick results.

The city devastated by fire is so rebuilt as to guard against a second conflagration.

The terrible loss of life which follows overloading an excursion steamer soon results in more stringent laws and greater safety for future travelers.

And today—this war call for the registration of young men brings home the need of birth records to every community and almost every family in the United States.

Can you prove you are under 21 or over 31, or must you forever be suspected of having falsified your age?

Perhaps a fond mother to save her son from the horrors of war may swear he is below the age limit; perhaps years later proof will be found that this man should have registered; imagine his chagrin at no having done his part in the war.

Perhaps there are slackers who in the absence of birth records may be able to shirk registration.

Surely on this day the need of complete birth registration is evident to all.

May we not hope that this call for registration of men between 21 and 31 will awaken the people from their lethargy and lead at once to this forward step in civilization—registration of every birth.

If you are interested and wish to know how to obtain better birth registration in your state, write to the United States Census Bureau.

THE STORM IN THE WEST

The journey of the cyclone which has appeared in seven states of the union has been littered with debris and dead. It is beyond the imagination of those who have not witnessed the destruction to conceive of a more terrifying spectacle, or of a disaster more sinister in its toll.

From Illinois to Arkansas are homes in ruins with bodies buried beneath the timber. Along its course the tornado, twisted and swirled, hitting here a town, there a town, here a settlement, there a settlement jumping into the air and missing the earth for miles to attack again with violence the innocent habitations of man.

We can hardly understand the awe with which citizens witness the dread funnel shaped cloud approaching. Before time has elapsed for men to secure their families, before children could scurry into safety, the tormenting vortex has gripped them and their bodies, lifting them into the air, casting them to earth again, to destruction and to death.

One of the freakish things reported was the stunt of the tornado in picking up six cars of a train and carrying them a quarter of a mile, where they were destroyed. This was a freak happening, but the deaths and the wounds and the wrecks were not freakish, they were the result of the tornado itself, the fruit of its growth.

CHAPTER IX.

We Compare Notes.

WE found McGlynn in line about a block down the street. When he saw me coming he pulled a fat buckskin bag from his breeches pocket, opened its mouth and shook a quantity of its contents by guess into the palm of his hand.

"There you are," said he; "that's near enough. I'm a pretty good guesser. I hope you took care of the mules all right. You ought to, you're from a farm."

"I fixed 'em."

"And the mud? How many times did you get stuck?"

"Not at all."

He looked at me with surprise.

"Would you think of that now?" said he. "You must have loaded her light."

"I did."

"Did you get all the goods over?"

"Yes."

"Well, I'll acknowledge you're a judicious young man, and if you want a job with me I'll let that lawyer go I spoke to the judge about. He handed it to me then, didn't he?" He laughed heartily. "No? Well, you're right. A man's a fool to work for any one but himself. Where's your bag? Haven't any? How do you carry your dust? Haven't any? I forgot; you're a tenderfoot, of course." He opened his buckskin sack with his teeth, and poured back the gold from the palm of his hand. Then he searched for a moment in all his pockets and produced a most peculiar chunk of gold metal. It was nearly as thick as it was wide, shaped roughly into an octagon, and stamped with initials. This he handed to me.

"It's about a fifty dollar slug," said he; "you can get it weighed. Give me the change next time you see me."

"But I may leave for the mines tomorrow," I objected.

"Then leave the change with Jim Ricket of the El Dorado."

"How do you know I'll leave it?" I asked curiously.

"I don't," replied McGlynn bluntly.

"But if you need $25 worse than you do a decent conscience then John A. McGlynn isn't the man to deny you!"

Johnny and I left for the hotel.

"I didn't know you expected any mail," said I.

"I don't."

"But thought I saw you in line?"

"Oh, yes! When I saw the mail sacks it struck me that there might be quite a crowd; so I came up as quickly as I could and got in line. There were a number before me, but I got a place pretty well up in front. I sold the place for $5, and only had to stand there about an hour at that."

"Good head!" I admired. "I'd never have thought of it. How have you gotten on?"

"Pretty rotten," confessed Johnny.

"I tried all morning to find a decent opportunity to do something or deal in something, and then I got mad and plunged in for old jobs. I've been a regular errand boy. I made $2 carrying a man's bag up from the ship."

"How much all told?"

"Fifteen. I suppose you've got your pile."

"That twenty-five you saw me get is the size of it."

Johnny brightened. We moved up closer in a new intimacy and sense of comradeship over delinquency. It relieved both to feel that the other, too, had failed. To enter the Plaza we had to pass one of the larger of the gambling places.

"I'm going in here," said Johnny suddenly.

He swung through the open doors, and I followed him.

The place was comparatively deserted, owing probably to the distribution of mail. We had full space to look about us, and I was never more astonished in my life. The outside of the building was rough and unfinished as a barn, having nothing but size to attract or recommend. The interior was the height of lavish luxury. A polished mahogany bar ran down one side, backed by huge gilt framed mirrors before which were pyramided fine glasses and bottles of liquor. The rest of the wall space was thickly hung with more plate mirrors, dozens of well executed oil paintings and strips of tapestry. At one end was a small raised stage on which lolled a half dozen darkies with banjos and tambourines. The floor was covered with a thick velvet carpet. Easy chairs, some of them leather upholstered, stood about in every available corner.

The game was roulette. Johnny and the dealer evidently recognized each other, for a flash of the eye passed between them, but they gave no other sign. Johnny studied the board a moment, then laid $22 in coin on one of the numbers. The other players laid out small bags of gold dust. The wheel spun and the ball rolled. Two of the men lost. Their dust was emptied into a drawer beneath the table and the bags tossed back to them. The third had won. The dealer deftly estimated the weight of his bet, lifting it in the flat of his left hand, then spun several gold pieces toward the winner. He seemed quite satisfied. The gambler stacked a roll of twenty dollar pieces, added one to them and thrust them at Johnny. I had not realized that the astounding luck of winning off a single number had befallen him.

"Ten to one—$220!" he muttered to me.

The other three players were laying their bets for the next turn of the wheel. Johnny swept the gold pieces into his pocket and laid back the original stake against even. He lost. Thereupon he promptly arose and left the building.

I followed him to the hotel somewhat gloomily, for I was now the only member of our party who had not made good the agreed amount of the partnership. It is significant that never for a moment did either Johnny or myself doubt that Talbot would have the required sum. Johnny, his spirits quite recovered, whistled like a lark.

We arrived just in time for the first supper call and found Talbot and Yank awaiting us. Yank was as cool and taciturn and nodded to us as differently as ever. Talbot, however, was full of excitement. His biscuit brown complexion had darkened and flushed until he was almost Spanish black, and the little devils in his eyes led a merry dance between the surface and unguessed depths. He was also exceedingly voluble and, as usual when in that mood, aggravatingly full-rect. He joked and teased and carried on like a small boy and insisted on ordering an elaborate dinner and a bottle of champagne in the face of even

"Ten to one—$220!" he muttered to me.

Johnny's scandalized expostulations. When Johnny protested against expenditure it was time to look out.

We lit our pipes and sat down at one end of the veranda, where we would not be interrupted.

"Fire ahead, Yank," advised Talbot.

"There's two ways of going to the mines," said Yank. "One is to go overland by horses to Sutter's Fort or the new town of Sacramento and then up from there into the foothills of the big mountains way yonder. The other is to take a boat and go up river to Sacramento and then pack across with horses."

"How much is the river fare?" asked Talbot.

"You have to get a sailboat. It costs about $40 apiece."

"How long would it take?"

"Four or five days."

"And how long from here to Sutter's Fort by horse?"

"About the same."

"Depends, then, on whether horses are cheaper here or there."

"They are cheaper there. Or we can get our stuff freighted in by Greasers and hoof it ourselves."

"Then I should think we ought to have a boat."

"I got one," said Yank.

"Good for you!" cried Talbot. "You're a man after my own heart! Well, Johnny?"

Johnny told his tale a little proudly and produced his required $220.

"You had luck," said Talbot noncommittally, "and you ran a strong risk of coming back here without a cent, didn't you? I want to ask you one question, Johnny. If you had lost would you have been willing to have taken the consequences?"

"What do you mean?" asked Johnny blankly.

"Would you have been willing to have dropped out of this partnership?"

Johnny stared.

"I mean," said Talbot kindly, "that you had no right to try to get this money by merely a gambler's chance unless you were willing to accept the logical result if you failed. It isn't fair to the rest of us."

"I see what you mean," said Johnny slowly. "No; I hadn't thought of it that way."

"Well, as I said, you had luck," repeated Talbot cheerfully, "so we needn't think of it further." It was characteristic that Johnny took this vetted rebuke from Talbot Ward in a meek and chastened spirit. From any one else his high temper could never stand even a breath of criticism. "How about you, Frank?" Talbot asked me.

I detailed my experiences in a very few words and exhibited my gold slug.

"That's the best I can do," I ended, "and half of that does not belong to me. I can, however, in a few days scrape up the full amount. There is plenty to do here. And, barring bull luck, like Johnny's, I don't see much show of beating that unless a man settled down to stay here."

Talbot stared at me ruminatively until I began to get restive; then he withdrew his eyes. He made no comment.

"I suppose you have your money," suggested Yank to him after a pause.

"Oh, yes," said Talbot as though awaking from profound reverie.

"Well, tell us about it. How did you get it? How long did it take you?"

"About half an hour. I figured that everybody in a place like this would be wanting news. So I sorted out that bundle of old newspapers you fellows were always laughing at, and I went out and sold them."

"How much did you get for them?" asked Johnny.

"A dollar apiece for most and 50 cents for the rest. I came out $270 ahead all told. That, with Frank's and my $10, gave me $80 above the necessary amount."

Johnny arose and kicked himself solemnly.

"For not guessing what newspapers were good for," he explained. "Go on! What next? What did you do with the rest of the day?"

MRS. ELLA I NUM PRAISES TANLAC

Freeport Woman Happy at Relief Master Medicine Brought Her Recently

Freeport, Ill., June 11—Mrs. Ella Farnam, a well known Freeport woman of No. 7, Beaver street, is enthusiastic in her praise of Tanlac, the new medicine, because it freed her of a trouble of six years standing.

"Yes sir, I've actually had stomach trouble for the past six years," Mrs. Farnam said on April 28. "Everything I ate caused gas to form in my stomach, making me belch audibly. Invariably after meals, a pressing sensation caused my heart to palpitate frightfully. None of the food I ate digested properly, just seeming to lay in my stomach."

"I saw the good Tanlac was doing for others and finally decided to try the new medicine. Well sir, for the first time in six years I can eat a good hearty meal without fear of any bad after effects. I can eat all kinds of foods now that formerly caused so much distress. I never suffer from gas formations and bloating anymore. I want to recommend Tanlac because I'm sure others may obtain the same benefits that I have."

Tanlac, the Master Medicine, is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and kidney trouble, loss of appetite, catarrhal complaints, nervousness and the like.

Tanlac is being introduced and explained in Dixon at Campbell & Sons Drug Store and in Franklin Grove at C. S. Ives' Drug Store.

A Galley o' Fun!

FROM A FUTURE CONGRESSIONAL RECORD.

The House being in Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union, and having under consideration the bill (H. R. 987654321) to grant a pension of $40 a week to every native-born or naturalized citizen who would have fought in the war of the Revolution if he had been there—

Mr. PORKNELL said: Mr. Chairman: In offering this measure I believe that I have put into tangible form the sentiment of every loyal, patriotic, red-blooded American citizen. (Applause.)

Mr. GRAMMUS—Will the gentleman yield for a question?

Mr. PORKNELL—Certainly. Mr. GRAMMUS—I should like to ask whether the gentleman in offering this measure intended the pension to be $40 a week instead of $40 a month? (Faint Applause.)

Mr. PORKNELL—I answer the gentleman with pleasure. The bill is as it should be, $40 a week. (Great applause.) May I ask the gentleman in return whether he would limit to a paltry $480 a year the return which this great nation should make to those heroes who would have given their lives freely for it in the very hour of his birth? Does he believe we should deprive them of that which every nation owes its gallant defenders because a mere accident of fate has decreed that they were not to be at Dunker Hill, at Valley Forge, at Yorktown? (Renewed applause.) I ask, rather, should we not recompense them the more liberally for the magnificent spirit with which they would have rushed to meet the oppressor because their willingness to do so is voiced without the artificial stimulus of the need itself? Nay, since the gentleman questions the amount, I say here that $40 a day would be none too much were it not that we would seem to offer no cold and artificial incentive to that priceless heritage of patriotism which is our boast as a nation. (Prolonged applause.)

Charles the nation that would limit its tribute to its heroes by the fortunes of time and chance rather than by the great underlying spirit of it. In gratitude, thy name is reason! Let us have none of it here when considering the nation's obligations to its own people! (Renewed applause.)

THINK ON THESE THINGS

Did it ever occur to you, dear reader, that the paper you are reading now—that you read every day—may be still unpaid for and that the publisher is obliged to pay every month for the type, the ink, the other materials—that several thousand dollars is always invested in paper and that those employed in getting out the paper are paid every Saturday night, while you read your paper day after day, month after month, and year after year, some times, with apparently little thought as to your obligations?

The time has come when we must use different methods. Those on the rural routes and other who receive their paper by mail, must pay year in advance. Please, right now take the time to look at the little yellow tag on your paper, appreciate past favors, and send in the amount which is due. To those who receive their Telegraph by carrier we ask that they pay our city circulator Robert Fulton, come to the office, or pay the carrier boy, each Saturday night.

If you wish to be a reader of this paper, you must fulfill your part of the contract,—that of paying for it.

BACKING UP PROOF

The Kind That Dixon People Cannot Deny

Many an earnest Dixon man of woman has publicly endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills.

Week after week, month after month you've read their statements. Would these Dixon people recommend any medicine if it were not good?

Would they confirm and repeat their statements after years had passed.

Local proof is good evidence. Testimony confirmed years after is better evidence.

The following Dixon man's statement leaves no room for doubt.

It must convince every kidney sufferer who reads it.

If your back aches—if your kidneys are weak—profit by the experience of John Edous, retired farmer, of 812 W. Fifth St. He says: "I had a lame back and other signs of kidney trouble. Doan's Kidney Pills removed the lameness and regulated my kidneys. I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills for what they have done for me and for others of the family."

Mr. Edous gave the above statement in January, 1910, and over seven years later, he added: "I am always ready to say a good word for Doan's Kidney Pills. I can recommend them as strongly as when I first spoke in their praise. Doan's have given me a lasting cure."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—that same that Mr. Edous has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co. Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

GET THAT SPY, IS DANIELS' ORDER

Secret Traitor Traced to U. S. Ordnance Department.

NAVAL SECRETS ARE DIVULGED

Secretary of Navy Produces Letters That Could Have Been Written by Person Having Access to Confidential Files—Necessary to Run Him Down, Says Cabinet Head—Letter Postmarked Detroit.

Washington, June 12.—Either a spy or traitor has been divulging confidential information of the bureau of ordnance, Secretary Daniels told the senate naval affairs committee.

When the committee resumed investigation of the Mongolia shell accident Senator Frelinghuysen produced some letters which Secretary Daniels said contained information which could have been obtained only from the confidential files of the ordnance bureau. He asked to have them turned over to the secret service.

Secretary Daniels said he had no desire to shield any one, that he had attempted to find out something about the author and could not.

Secretary Daniels said it was absolutely necessary to run down traitors or spies in the navy department and that the person who furnished the information was one or the other. He urged the committee to uncover the author of the letters and make him disclose everything.

One Letter from Detroit. Secretary Daniels contended that charges of incompetency were made in the letters against inspectors and contained grave reflections upon the basic defenses of the country. One of the letters was postmarked Detroit, Mich.

MEXICO IS WITH U. S., CARRANZA DECIDES

Letter from Southern Republic Head Announces Stand.

Washington, June 12.—Mexico has given the United States assurances of her warmest friendship—amounting to practically a declaration of sympathy for the cause of the allies. This is expressed in an autograph letter from President Carranza to the government of the United States. This was received here by Ambassador Ignacio Bonillas of Mexico and was presented to Secretary of State Lansing by the ambassador.

Ambassador Bonillas has authority for the statement that Mexico will seek to continue her policy of neutrality in the world war, but he does not deny that sentiment in the southern republic is with the allied cause.

While President Carranza's letter is intended as an official announcement that Mexico has returned to normal conditions, and states that the provisional government is in full control of the situation, the expressions of friendship for President Wilson personally and for continued friendly relations with the United States is taken in diplomatic circles here to mean that Mexico's sympathies are entirely with the allies.

$37,277,500 Day for War.
